

THE MVC PATTERN

MVC = Model View Controller

Model — the current representation of the data

View — what the user can see / what the user receives

Controller — All logic handling requests and updating the model

